EDUCATION

- Southwestern Illinois College,
Paralegal Studies

Sheri provides essential support to members of the Firm's Litigation Group, including product liability, toxic tort, and railroad litigation practice groups.

She collaborates closely with attorneys, paralegals, and other legal professionals to ensure the efficient and timely handling of these litigation matters.

Sheri is responsible for a wide range of tasks, including case file management, database management, e-discovery support, records collection and summarization, and scheduling. She has strong organizational skills and attention to detail which contribute to her successful management of a significant caseload.
