I'm dedicated to delivering strategic counsel in complex transactions, with a focus on collaboration that fosters innovative solutions and client success.

overview

In her corporate and securities practice, Haley Kavanaugh guides clients through complex transactions with a focus on mergers and acquisitions, investments, debt offerings, securities work, and general corporate governance.

With a background in both law and finance, Haley brings unique perspectives to every engagement. She handles numerous aspects of M&A transactions including drafting agreements and supporting documents and performing due diligence. Her work includes multibillion-dollar public debt offerings, including preparing offering memoranda and ancillary documents. In her securities work, Haley advises on public company governance, SEC reporting, and securities offerings. She also assists with documents and review of diligence materials related to client investments.

Haley previously worked in the post-closing department for a title and escrow company and as a law clerk for a Virginia-based firm.

in my free time

As a former Division 1 soccer player, I now share my love of the game as a volunteer youth soccer coach. When I'm not on the field, you'll find me enjoying a historical fiction novel paired with a vanilla latté or at Pilates.
