

Sean

Sean D. Venard
Strategic Pricing Analyst

svenard@thompsoncoburn.com

St. Louis

D - (314) 552-6287

EDUCATION

University of Chicago, B.A., Economics

My logical approach and problem-solving skills help me create value for the firm through thoughtful data analysis.

overview

Sean Venard brings experience in data analysis and technology to his role as the firm's strategic pricing analyst, working to ensure value across the organization.

He develops strategies for process improvement and pricing for legal services, working with others across the firm to identify the right mix of fee arrangements for each situation. His analysis of data and industry trends helps develop best practices for delivering optimal client value.

in my free time

I enjoy reading, particularly history and economics.