overview

Steve Grable represents financial institutions, corporate entities, fiduciaries, creditor groups, and individuals in a varied nationwide practice, including deep experience in the following:

- Financial services litigation: Advising lenders and borrowers on commercial loan workouts and defaults, with expertise in factoring and ABL facilities.
- Fiduciary litigation: Representing fiduciaries and beneficiaries in a variety of disputes concerning issues of administration, investment, and breaches of fiduciary duty.
- Commercial litigation: Handling breach of contract claims and related business torts for businesses, officers, and directors.
- Bankruptcy litigation: Representing secured lenders, unsecured creditors, and trustees in bankruptcy and related litigation.

Steve handles every phase of litigation, from pre-action case investigations and assessments, through jury and bench trials, and appeals.

Steve also is a sought-after speaker, and has taught survey and advanced courses on fiduciary litigation and alternative dispute resolution as an adjunct professor at Fordham University and Seton Hall Law School.
